

Support Home & Community-Based Waivers

Disability services make Georgia strong by supporting people with disabilities and their families to live, work and play across Georgia.

GOMP Waiver recipient Callie shared, "This waiver system can make a huge difference in the quality of someone's life. It can make life worth living." —Comer, GA

What are HCBS waivers used for?

HCBS waivers are an optional Medicaid service that allow people with disabilities to receive services in the community, as opposed to an institutional setting.

Housing

Support people to live in a group home, with a roommate or on their own.

Employment

Help people find and keep jobs through long-term, supported employment services.

Professional Caregivers

Assist with bathing, dressing, eating and even getting to work.

Therapies

Provide for physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech and language therapy and behavioral supports.

What do HCBS waivers mean for Georgia?

Makes a small dent in the 5,000+ Georgians on the waiting list for a waiver

Creates jobs and pumps money back into local economies

Keeps families out of crisis through respite care and ensuring family members keep their jobs

Saves the taxpayer money, as HCBS waivers, on average, cost less than institutional settings

HCBS waivers are also called:

- NOW/COMP: Intellectual and Developmental Disability
- ICWP: Physical Disability
- SOURCE/CCSP: Elderly and Disabled

What Georgia Needs:

$16.3 million increase to DBHDD to fund 650 new NOW/COMP waivers and support level funding to DCH for ICWP, CCSP and SOURCE waivers

Questions? Want to help? Contact GCDD's Public Policy Director Dawn Alford at 404.805.9741 or dawn.alford@gcdd.ga.gov or GCDD's Planning & Policy Development Specialist Hanna Rosenfeld at 404.275.8119 or hanna.rosenfeld@gcdd.ga.gov.